Bright TV Viewership Analysis

Audience patterns, viewing habits, and channel performance

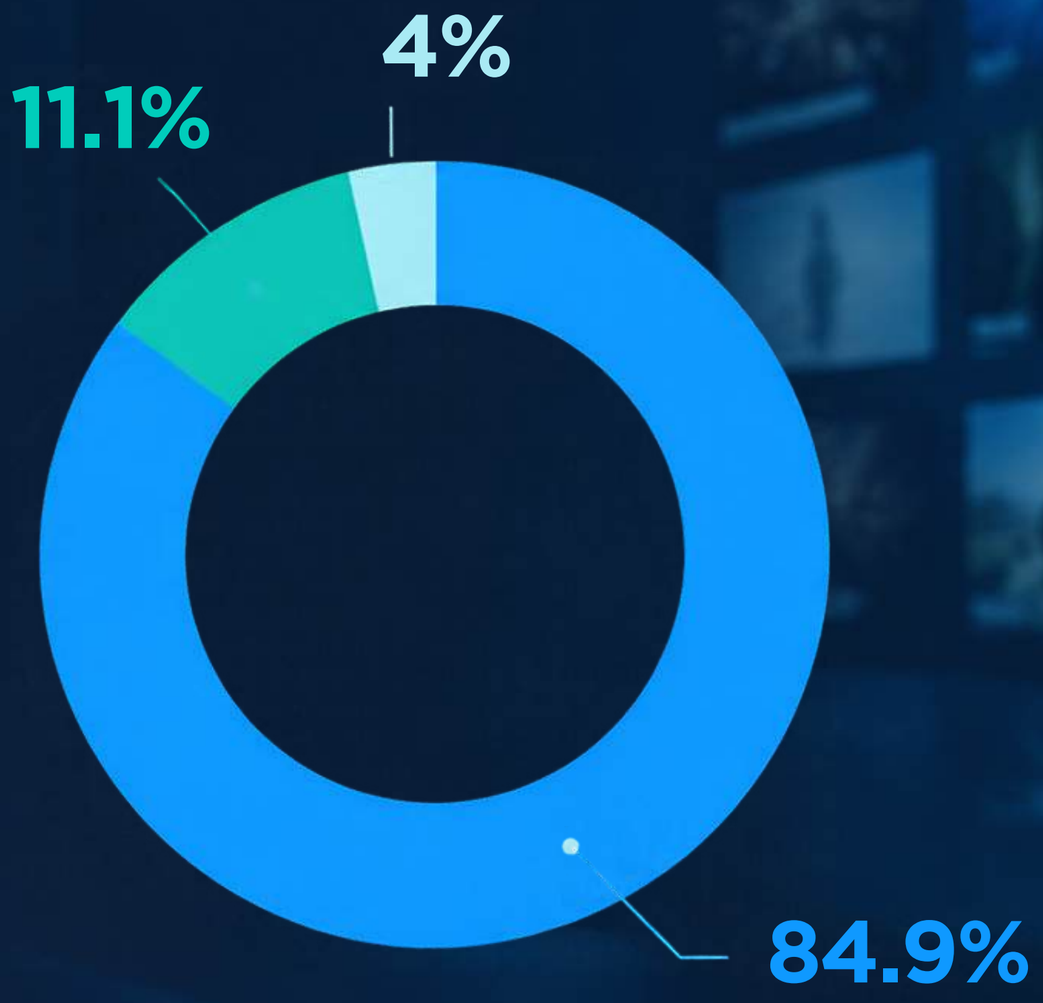

A snapshot of viewing activity

- 10,000 records captured across the analysis period.
- 4,386 unique users generated
- 1,523 total viewing hours.
- Average viewing duration was 0.15 hours.

Audience distribution by sex

- Male viewers account for 84.9% of the audience.
- Female viewers account for 11.1%; unknown records account for 4%.
- The audience is predominantly male, with room to broaden engagement.

Viewership by age group

- Youth Adults recorded 905 viewing hours and 2,521 users.
- Adults recorded 481 viewing hours and 1,346 users.
- Together, these groups account for 84.88% of users and viewing hours.

Viewing activity by day of week

- Friday leads with 1,675 records, followed by Saturday at 1,633.
- Wednesday follows with 1,553 records.
- Monday is the lowest day, with 957 records.

Time of day

Evening:

2,474

records

Afternoon:

viewing activity follows the evening peak

Morning:

1,645

records

Midnight:

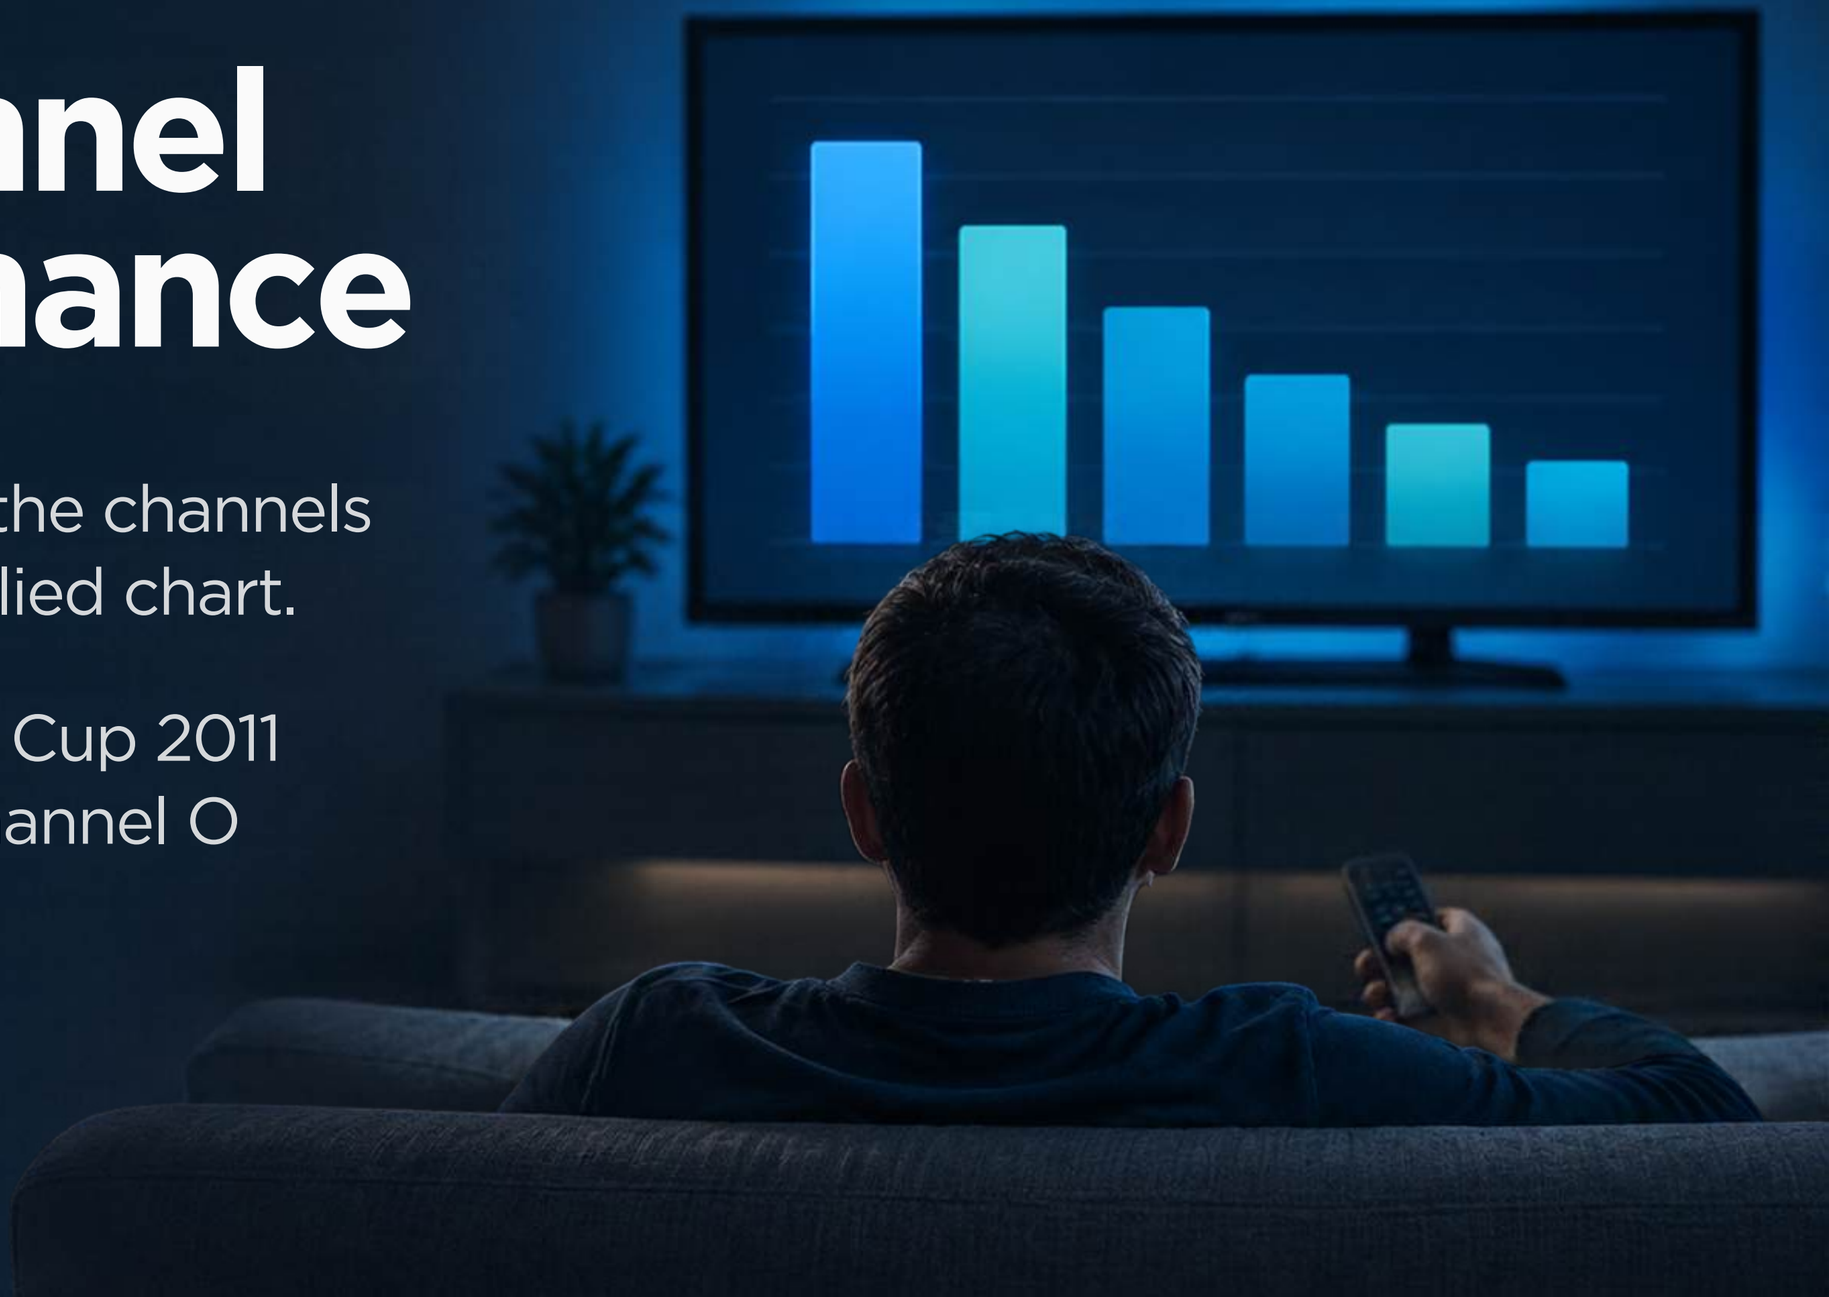

455

viewers, the lowest segment

TV channel performance

- Live Events leads the channels shown in the supplied chart.
- ICC Cricket World Cup 2011 recorded 1,258; Channel O recorded 1,054.

Turn viewing patterns into programming priorities

Prioritize Youth Adult and Adult audiences, live events, and sports.

Schedule key content for evenings and late-week viewing periods.

Improve data quality and focus growth campaigns on highly engaged segments.

